About the authors: Carole Drouin (Clarence Creek, Ontario) and Daniel Lavigne (Welland, Ontario) wrote their first book in response to colleagues, friends and family who asked, "How did you do it?" The couple met in Toronto in 2003 through work, committed to a vision and a plan, and retired 10 years later. They live in Richmond Hill, Ontario. They spend the winter in their Costa Rican home and continue to travel the world, truly living the life of "the fortunate few." Visit their website at TheFortunateFew.com for more information.
